PRAYER FRIENDS & PRAYERFUL CONSIDERATION

Hi Mary & Ron,

Thank you for the reminder note.

In fact it's so great, that it made it to the PACRC Prayer Group's @twitter pages.

FYI - it's web-location is here

HAVE A PRAYERFUL & BLESSED DAY!

HELLO FRIENDS:

Instead of meeting for CARE GROUP on Wednesday, we are planning to go on Thursday to see 58: The Film at Oakridge.

The movie begins at 7 pm so I think those who would like to carpool should meet at our house at 6 pm. It will take a few minutes to get organized, etc. and then we can take one or two vehicles to SJ and go in the carpool lane. Just because of potential accidents or other bad traffic, parking, etc. I think we should allow enough time to get there.

Please let me know if you are interested in going and also if you would like to carpool from our house. Dan is also driving from Palo Alto, so if you would like to ride with him please let both of us know.

Sorry for the late change, but I think many of us are interested in the movie and two nights in a row might be too much.

Blessings. Mary and Ron

PRAYER FRIENDS & PRAYER CONSIDERATIONS

Hello to You Jan & Luke,
Hope, you are doing well in these days!

Since the PACRC Prayer (Book) Group can be expanded, in many direction on the Internet, and our presence is on @Twitter already - <http://twitter.com/#!/PrayerFriends>

An other option for public interaction and church participation is @Facebook - <http://www.facebook.com/prayerfriends> and it's just starting up lately.

Internet and online networking is attractive to young people as well.

So my question is:

- Do you think, that M would be interested to maintain this of our @facebook site on a regular bases by overseeing its contents, and freely post there any subject she thinks is important to her, or for her friends?

If you have a chance, please let me know about your thought.

Many thanks: Andrew

PRAYERFUL EMAIL CORRESPONDENCE

Of course, take your time.

Will be interesting to see, what is her initial response.

On the other hand - the Kingdom of God is more like " 1 person at the time " project and not the "bulk-email" type of corporate options.

Just came to mind the "one sheep" story by comparing it to the 99 long-time faithful - as they should be left behind in search for that single one. Since the rejoicing is not about them any more - here, but about the - one.

Don't you think so?

hmmmm, very interesting.

Let me get back to you when she replies to the initial idea!
It's very kind of you to think of these things, and to think of her.

That's right!

What does she like? Any subject?

Perhaps I'll create a @facebook page accordingly, like:

1. " butWhy? " 2. " dear2ask " 3. " what'sUp?"

----- or something like that.

My guess is that she would not be interested,
given her current position on the concept of prayer (!)
but I will pass this along to her just in case.

I hope someday to be rejoicing...
it's a very heartwarming thought.

Let's then be encouraged by
The power of Prayer!

Hi Pastor Dan,

Thank you for the reminder and update. It's an excellent idea, that at least one person can have the screening opportunity, and have a basic understanding about the overall meaning of the film. We all appreciate your taking time for this.

For sure, we will miss the prayer group time, but looking forward to see what CRWM will say about the world-poverty situation, and how to solve it!

Thank you again. Blessings, Andrew

Hello all,

This Thursday we won't meet for 'Prayer'. Instead anyone who would like can join us to see, '58', a film sponsored by the CRWRC about global poverty. I know that Andrew is planning on joining me. Just so you know, I am hoping to screen the movie at church sometime if it turns out to be a good tool for us.

In the meantime, let us all keep up our desire to be faithful in prayer.

God's peace, Dan

Hello all,

I am forwarding this note as a reminder about the film on Thursday evening and also to suggest that we should arrive at church at 6:00 pm in order to get to the theater on time, hand out tickets, etc. This is earlier than I had suggested on Sunday, but after talking to Ron about the commute time I think this makes more sense. It would be best for us all if I weren't late.

At any rate, take care, and call me if you have any questions.

Thanks, Dan
